

Handwriting practice section consisting of ten horizontal rows. Each row starts with a small orange cat illustration on the left. The rest of the row is a yellow band containing a series of dashed 'S' characters for tracing. The first row begins with a solid 'S' character, while the remaining rows contain only dashed 'S' characters. Each 'S' character has a small vertical line underneath it, likely indicating the starting point for the second stroke.

